PPE/COVID

forging
a new road

The Covid-19 crisis has fundamentally changed how society views peace and safety. The educational system didn't just come to a fork in the road in 2020. The road literally stopped. Forging a new road is never easy, but when it comes to our children, failure isn't an option. Everyday heroes working in schools all over the world jumped to embrace standard practices like social distancing and donning face coverings. They didn't miss a beat when asked to comply with enhanced cleaning regimens or teaching children through sneeze guards. Restoring peace and safety was, and is, too important. In 2021, Children's Factory will continue to support the educational system to overcome whatever new challenges are presented to our community.
